7. The following pop-up will appear:

The screenshot shows a browser window with the title "Yahoo - Google Chrome" and the address bar containing the URL "login.yahoo.com/account/challenge/password?done=https%3A%2F%2Fapi.login.yahoo.com%2Fo...". The main content area features the "YAHOO!" logo in purple at the top left and a "Help" link in blue at the top right. Below the logo is the text "YAHOO MAKES IT EASY TO ENJOY WHAT MATTERS MOST IN YOUR WORLD." followed by a paragraph: "Best in class Yahoo Mail, breaking local, national and global news, finance, sports, music, movies and more. You get more out of the web, you get more out of life." To the right of this text is a white pop-up box with a light gray border. Inside the pop-up, the "YAHOO!" logo is centered at the top. Below it, the text "Hello [redacted]" is displayed, with "Not you?" in blue underneath. A password input field with a masked password "....." and a "Show/Hide" icon is positioned above a blue "Sign in" button. Below the button is a blue link that says "I forgot my password".

Enter your Yahoo password.

8. The following pop-up will appear:

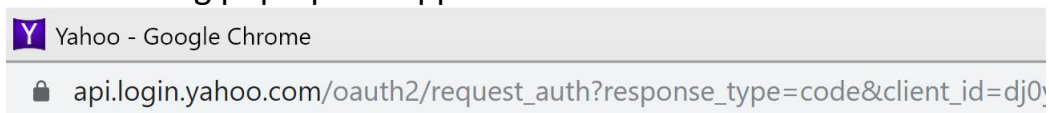

The screenshot shows a Google Chrome browser window with the address bar displaying "login.yahoo.com/account/comm-channel/verify?tn=arinfo_verify&display=login&.scrumb=NVnwr...". The page content includes the Yahoo logo in the top left and a "Help" link in the top right. A central white pop-up box contains the following text and elements:

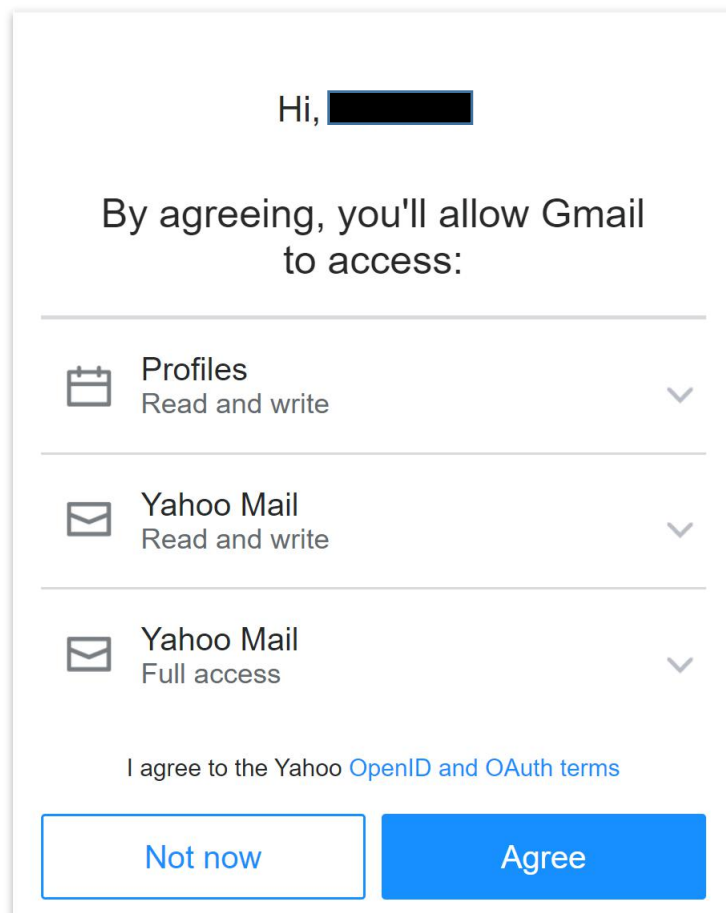

- Yahoo logo
- Section header: "Verify it's you"
- Text: "Verify +1 [redacted] so you're notified about important account updates and help you get into your Yahoo account."
- Illustration of a blue smartphone with an orange speech bubble containing three white dots.
- Text: "Messaging and data rates may apply"
- Primary button: "verify phone number" (blue background, white text)
- Secondary link: "Edit phone number" (blue text)

Yahoo will want to verify it is you by sending you a text message. Enter the code you receive in the form that will pop-up.

9. The following pop-up will appear:

YAHOO!

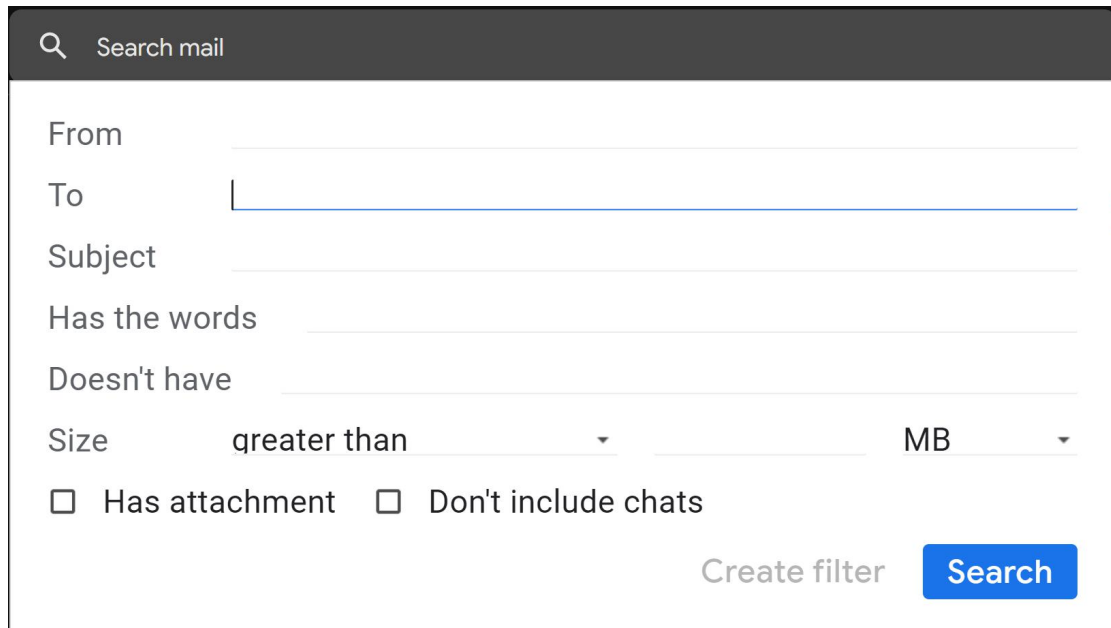

Agree to the allow Gmail access.

Your Gmail account is now linked to your Yahoo account. Any email sent to your Yahoo email will appear in your Gmail "Inbox". To automatically separate your Yahoo email from your Gmail email, set up a Label and a filter for your Yahoo email.

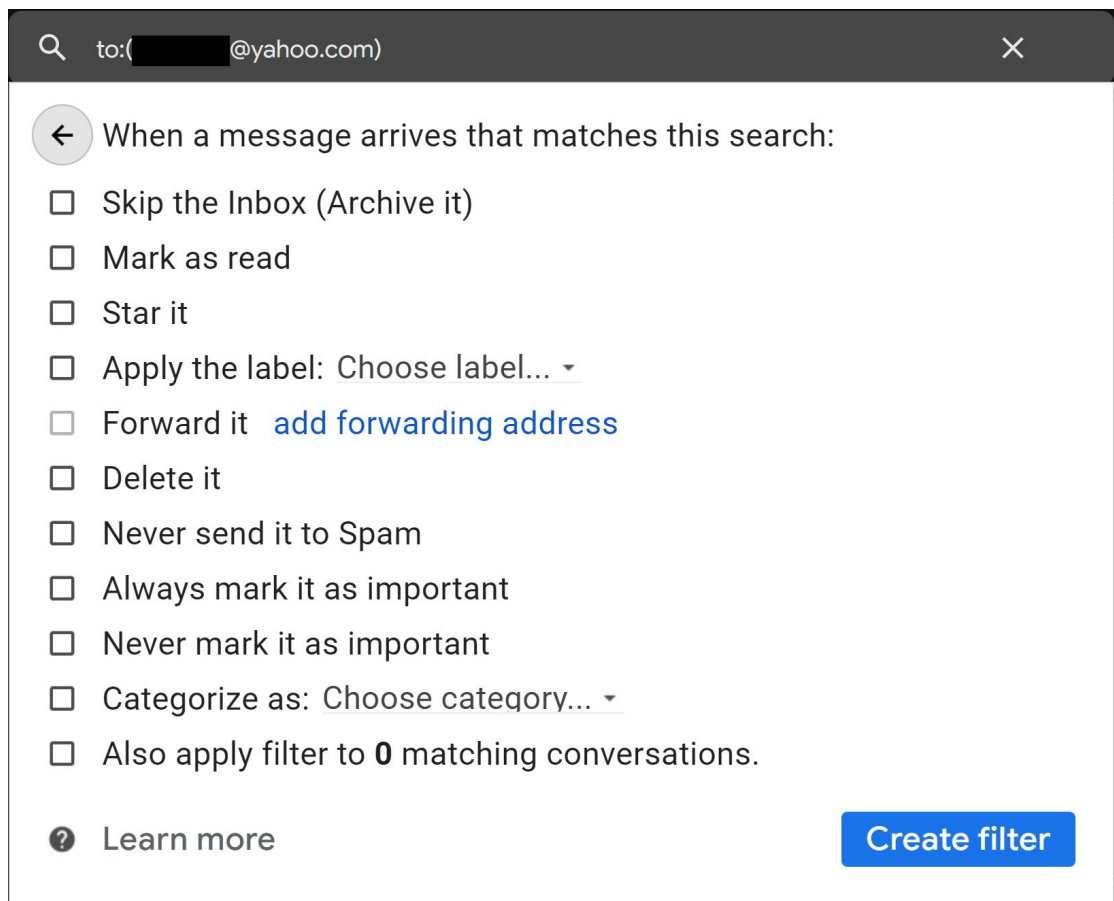

1. On your Gmail web page, on the left side hover the cursor over "Google Account".
  - a) Click on the three dots.
  - b) Click on "Add sublabel".

- c) Provide the label name you want, for example 'Yahoo'. That label will appear in alphabetical order under the label "Google Account".
2. On your GMAIL web page, click on the gear on upper right.
3. Click on "Settings".
4. Click on "Filters and Blocked Addresses".
5. Click on "Create a new filter".
6. In the "Search mail" form that pops up, enter your Yahoo email address in the "To" field.

The image shows a screenshot of the Gmail 'Search mail' form. The form has a dark header with a magnifying glass icon and the text 'Search mail'. Below the header, there are several input fields: 'From', 'To', 'Subject', 'Has the words', and 'Doesn't have'. The 'To' field is currently active, with a blue cursor. Below these fields, there is a 'Size' section with a dropdown menu set to 'greater than' and another dropdown menu set to 'MB'. At the bottom of the form, there are two checkboxes: 'Has attachment' and 'Don't include chats'. On the right side, there are two buttons: 'Create filter' and 'Search'.

7. The "Create filter" at the bottom of the form will become select-able. Click on it.
8. In the form that pops up, click on "Skip the Inbox (Archive it)". Then click on "Apply the label: Choose label...". On the "Choose label..." part, choose the label that you created in Step 1.

9. Click on “Create filter” and the filter is created.

Now when email is sent to your Yahoo email address it will be picked up by your Gmail and placed under the label “Google Account->Yahoo”. Don’t forget to check under that label when reading your Gmail.

There is a delay of minutes from when an email is sent to your Yahoo email account to when it appears in your Gmail account. You can hurry the process:

1. On your GMAIL web page, click on the gear on upper right.
2. Click on “Settings”.
3. Go down to “Check mail from other accounts:”.
4. For the account you want, click on “Check mail now”.
